

Our Mission:

Through educational initiatives, public events, and collaborative projects, we encourage, promote, and support respectful and friendly dialogue between people with a passion for philosophy.

Our Vision:

To be a vibrant international life-long learning community dedicated to philosophical exploration, encouraging analysis, critical dialogue, and a diversity of viewpoints to deepen understanding.

Our Values:

- Philosophy: We seek to enhance the role of philosophy in society and education.
- Joy in Learning: We value the joy that comes from intellectual exploration and creative expression.
- Community: We are a vibrant, diverse community of members where all are treated with mutual respect, regardless of background or educational level. Those new to philosophy, as well as seasoned philosophers, are welcome in our Society.
- Support: We actively support students and learners of philosophy by hosting events, offering student essay prizes, speaking opportunities, and offerings of inclusion in our published journal. By combining these approaches, the Society creates a supportive and dynamic environment that nurtures both personal and academic growth, strengthens community ties, and sustains long-term engagement with philosophy.
